
Boca Junior League to host 19th Wachovia woman volunteer awards

Luncheon, fashion show also planned

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

The 19th annual Wachovia Woman Volunteer of the Year award will be given at the Boca Resort and Club Oct. 27. Hosted by the Junior League of Boca Raton and Woolbright Development, the luncheon and fashion show will feature one of 27 nominees receiving the award.

Money raised from this event will support the Junior League of Boca Raton's 2007-2008 Community Projects. The 2006 honorary chair is Wendy Larsen, land use attorney and the 2004 Centre for the Arts Woman Volunteer of the Year nominee.

This luncheon recognizes 27 women nominees from various non-profit organizations throughout Palm Beach County for dedication and expertise as a volunteer. These women are nominated for making a significant and noteworthy contribution to the lives of children, families, individuals and seniors within the community – and one will be named volunteer of the year.

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS

Organizers for this year's Wachovia Woman Volunteer of the Year Award include: Caroline Angstadt, co-chair; Dorothy MacDiarmid, chair; Gary C. Klein, Palm Beach County regional president for Wachovia; Lara Carter, co-chair.

The St. John Fall Collection will be featured in the Saks Fifth Avenue, Boca Raton runway fashion show. Gordon Homes continues its involvement with the event as the Gold Model Sponsor.

Tickets for the luncheon are: $150 for Platinum Seating – includes the best seating on the runway with champagne service (limited seating available); $100 for Gold Seating – includes preferred seating with runway service; and $80 for Silver Seating – includes general seating.

For reservations and further information, please contact Event Chair Dorothy MacDiarmid at 561.302.4996 or the Junior League of Boca Raton, Inc. by phone at 561.620.2553 or online at www.jlbr.org.
